Should I just replace the image in res/drawable-hdpi or it can be done by doing it by code? And how do I do it? A: you can set it to the current drawable like: ((ImageView)findViewById(R.id.myImageView)).setImageDrawable(getResources().getDrawable(R.d., and an extra content of the corawable.image1)); or

((ImageView)findViewById(R.id.myImageView)).setImageResource(R.drawable.image1); The image1 is an example, you can change it to some of your drawables. Q: Wrong image in img tag after scrolling down I'm creating a portfolio site and it
