Take a look at this amazing model of the Death Star by Adriel & Day and you will see the iconic structure along with many more of the new collector's edition ship models inspired by the Star Wars galaxy. If you thought we were crazy enough about the new Star Wars ships as we are, these new 3D models from Adriel & Day will blow you away. The models are available for $108 each and are inspired by the movie Rogue One: A Star Wars Story. The Death Star from Rogue One is going to be a very special model as the release of the official boxed set is around the corner. If you look closely you'll be able to see the cracks in the Death Star you see in the picture below. It's amazing how even the slightest detail is captured on these models and they measure in at a huge 4"x4"x3". These models are the same size as the models used for the original Death Star model and the original Millennium Falcon model released by Adriel & Day. Check out some more pictures below and tell us what you think of these new 3D models. If you missed out on the new Millennium Falcon model, check it out here. [Via Adriel & Day] Effects of the D1/D2 dopamine receptor agonist bromocriptine on dopamine metabolism in rat striatum. Rats pretreated with a single intraperitoneal injection of the D1/D2 dopamine receptor agonist bromocriptine (2 mg/kg) were killed by rapid decapitation 1, 6, or 24 h after drug administration and striatal levels of dopamine, DOPAC, and HVA were determined by HPLC with electrochemical detection. Dopamine levels were lowered 1 h after bromocriptine injection and returned to control values 6 h later. DOPAC levels were not altered 1 h after bromocriptine, but increased to 167% of control values by 6 h and remained elevated until 24 h after drug administration. HVA
